A R E A 'D E V E L O P I N G R E S E A R C H’

Seconded National Expert

M/F

The EUROPEAN CENTRE FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF VOCATIONAL TRAINING (Cedefop) is an Agency of the European Union. It supports the European institutions, the governments of Member States and the social partners – employers’ representatives and unions – in the development of initial and continuing vocational training. Cedefop has approximately 130 staff and is based in Thessaloniki, northern Greece. For more information on the Agency, see www.cedefop.eu.int.

Seconded national experts (SNEs) are national or international civil servants or persons employed in the private sector who are working temporarily for Cedefop under the rules applicable to such experts.

Work in the Area ‘Developing Research’ focuses on systematic enquiry into the structures and processes involved in acquiring, updating and utilising vocational skills and competences. The aim is to investigate – in a European and international context - developments in vocational education and training, identify new issues and demands, and explore their significance for innovation and development. Enquiry is carried out in-house, by commissioning studies and reports, organising meetings/conferences, and through research cooperation networks.

An important task of Cedefop is to support cooperation between researchers across Europe. The European Research Overview (ERO) is one of Cedefop’s instruments to address this task. Its overall goal is to contribute to building a community of European researchers in VET and human resource development (HRD). ERO promotes European research through collaboration with European research networks, associations and institutes.

In particular, ERO collaborates with the European Network of Reference and Expertise (ReferNet), coordinated by Cedefop, encompassing all Member States and Norway and Iceland (http://www.cedefop.eu.int/directory.asp?refernet). ERO is operationalised through cooperative partnerships between Cedefop, the ReferNet members and other research networks, bodies and actors.

The four interlinked activity fields of ERO are as follows:

1. ERO Base – a data base on research projects, persons (researchers/experts) and papers (http://www.trainingvillage.gr/etv/Projects_Networks/ERO/);

2. ERO National Research Reports (ENRRs) – short overviews of research taking place within a country; they complement the ERO Base;

3. ERO Call – a mailing list that enables researchers to exchange information and/or collaborate with each other;

4. ERO MAP (Monitoring, Analysing and Promoting) aims to provide European overviews and commentaries on current research (based on the ERO National Research Reports and other sources) and cooperate with European research networks and bodies in the promotion of VET and HRD research.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND TASKS

The successful candidate will take on overall responsibility for developing and managing the four activity fields of ERO outlined above.

The specific tasks to be undertaken are as follows:

1. Liaise with colleagues in Cedefop in the overall development and management of ERO as well as with the ERO-related work of ReferNet members;

2. Liaise with other European and national VET/HRD networks in the promotion and dissemination of European research in VET and HRD;

3. Monitor the quality of the input to ERO base, the ERO National Research Reports and the ERO Call mailing list;

4. Provide feedback to ReferNet members on the quality and adequacy of their submissions;

5. Contribute to the development of overviews on VET and HRD research, drawing on the ERO National Research Reports and other sources;

6. Liaise with and monitor the work of external contractors working with Cedefop on ERO;

7. Administer, update and maintain the ERO Base in collaboration with ReferNet and in-house services;
8. Cooperate actively in related research activities and projects of the Area 'Developing Research';

9. Make presentations in meetings/seminars/conferences on the implementation of ERO and contribute to seminars and conferences promoting European research in VET and HRD;

10. Monitor the project budget in compliance with the European financial and procurement rules, under the supervision of the Head of Area.
